

Tell the World

Marina Rebeka, vocals. Lyrics © Charles Goodger. Produced by Marcelo Frajmowicz.

Verse

The time has come to tell the world
As our hopes and fears unfold,
In these troubled times of dark and gloom
We know new times are yet to come.

Though my way is steep and long
My conviction shines so strong!
On the winding road of life ahead
I share my voice, my gift, this song.

Chorus

*The nightingale greets the day in the darkness,
This song of life wakes me up to new rebirth.
Let's bring all good into future,
The past is gone and we fear it no more.
A whole new life is just beginning
You can tell the world.*

Verse

So come along and sing this song
To one family we belong,
We can all create a better world
To face the future brave and strong!

Bridge

Our planet filled with love and trust
And the freedom to be who you are.
There's no more loneliness, no more fears
When the world comes together as one!

Chorus

*The nightingale greets the day in the darkness
This song of life wakes me up to new rebirth,
Let's bring all good into future,
The past is gone and we fear it no more,
A whole new life is just beginning
You can tell the world.
